

What should you believe?

Using my bank is easier

Steady on. Once your Currency Online account is setup, a money transfer will take less than 5 minutes (all done online – available 24hrs a day, 6 days a week). Their toll free help desk is also available 24hrs, so day or night a dedicated Customer Relationship Manager is at hand to help with any queries you may have.

I get about the same money using my bank

No. The banks can't get near Currency Online rates (and if they do just watch out for their huge commission). Call your bank for a live foreign exchange rate, and compare to the rates you see here.

But setting up an account with Currency Online takes ages

I'm not so sure. An account application using their online registration form takes no time at all. Once they've received a copy of your passport photo and a recent bank statement or utility bill showing your home address, they can have your account up and running within 24hrs.

I just send a cheque home - that's the best way

Best for the banks, but certainly not for you! Find out what exchange rate that cheque will be converted at - transferring your money using Currency Online is faster, and at a rate the banks just can't get close to (unless of course they throw in a hefty commission) - which gives you more money to spend on the things you enjoy.
